Sports Page

This week I went witnessing at two sporting events around the metroplex. First, came the FC Dallas game in Frisco on Thursday night. The game was on ESPN 2 and many fans were out tailgating and walking to the game. Attendance at the game was 9500. I was able to hand out 200 gospel tracts. I had many good conversations with people about Jesus. I shared the Gospel a number of times. A good thing I learned is to bring Spanish tracts to a soccer match! Sunday afternoon I went out to Texas Stadium. The crowd was electric in preparation for a the battle of unbeatens between the Cowboys and Patriots. I parked a few blocks from the stadium and handed out tracts as I made my way to the parking lot. Once I got to the parking lot I went around and talked to people that were tailgating. I could easily strike up a conversation with people by asking for their prediction of the score. I turned a number of conversations to spiritual things and shared the Gospel a number of times. After the game started there were still hundreds of people hanging out around the stadium. I am sure I could have talked to people through out the whole game. Some were still looking for tickets. So I would ask them how much they thought a ticket to the game would cost. I told them I had heard prices from $125 to $700 a piece. (WOW! That would buy a lot of tracts). Then I would ask how much they thought it would cost for a ticket to heaven. And we would have a spiritual conversation!

Witnessing in Dallas

Thursday at lunch we are meeting in downtown Dallas to witness near the bus station. On Monday, Craig went to scout it out. He handed a Gospel of John to a street person that appeared to have throat cancer and could not speak. As it started to drizzle Craig headed back to his truck. This man came up to him reading the Gospel, pointed to the salvation message in the front and shook hands. Praise God!
