A Weekly Newsletter

Volume 1, Number 18

Friday, Dec 7

Carl and Craig will be witnessing at a mall (Valley View, Northpark or Grapevine Mills) at noon. Your prayers for open hearts to hear the Gospel are appreciated.

The Golden Compass starts Friday, December 7

The movie "The Golden Compass" starts. It is by an atheist and is about killing God. We have ordered 400 tracts specific to the movie to hand out to the movie goers! Please come help us pass them out!

Encouraging personal evangelism

Evangelism is not just for your pastor or the evangelism. It should be part of every believers daily life. Our Lord commands us to "go make disciples". As you go shopping this week ask the cashier if they celebrate Christmas and if so why. If they don't say something like "to celebrate the birth of Christ" then share that with them and leave them a tract or Gospel of John! Please let me know how it goes!

Prayers for Mande

Mande continues continues class at CCCC to learn how to start a non-profit ministry. Pray for time organization to balance this and all of her other responsibilities. Her class work has helped us organize many aspects of the ministry

Frisco Christmas on the Square

We are planning to go witnessing on some Friday and Saturday nights in December at Frisco Christmas on the square. This includes fun for the whole family. For more information, see <http://friscosquare.com/christmas.php>

Bibles for Believers

The Lord has laid it on our hearts to make Bibles available to those who don't have one at no cost to them. $2.15 plus postage will provide an attractive NIV Bible to a new believer. Please pray about making this possible with a gift to Bezeugen. Thank you!

A Touch...

Last week we had a great time witnessing at the Galleria mall. The place was buzzing with Christmas shopping and with people in town for the Cowboys-Packers game. We tried a new approach at a Kiosk handing the guy a million dollar bill tract and saying "if this were real could I buy everything here. Craig then had a good conversation with him about heaven and hell. During the conversation another kiosk worker came over and was listening. As he was walking away from the conversation, I was able to engage him in a quick conversation and leave him with a Gospel of John as well. I encourage you to use Christmas as a time to witness. Start a conversation with a simple "do you know why people celebrate Christmas" or "do you celebrate Christmas" question. Saturday was the Adolphus Christmas parade in Dallas. It was attended by 350,000! Matt, Todd, Debbie and I went out although due to the crowd and a miscommunication we never actually met up with Matt. But he tells me he had several hours of great witnessing encounters. We handed out over 1000 Christmas Quiz tracts. People were actually coming up to us asking for more of them. After the parade I handed out more quizzes to the dispersing crowd. I would hear people say "hey, we can do this over lunch". After a quick lunch Mande and I felt like we needed to feed the homeless some lunch. So we bought some bowls of soup and went across to the library and handed them out. Brendan gave away the apples that had come in his meal to a man. The man told him he was a wonderful blessing from God. Brendan has asked us if he can go hand out food to the homeless again sometime! Debbie and I witnessed to a homeless man named Vincent. He is a believer that has had a tough time lately. I gave him money for breakfast and asked if I could pray for him. He said yes. After I prayed he put his head on my shoulder and wept. So I put my arms around him and hugged him. After a minute or so he composed himself and was talking to Debbie and I. He said, "no one has done that in a long time. You know what I am talking about, right?". I said "No one has touched you." He said, "yes!". We wept together. A touch is all it takes to show God's love!
