A T.I.P.

"Go therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and the Son, and the Holy Spirit..." Matthew 28:19

I was listening to Way of the Master Radio last week and heard some interesting role play. Kirk Cameron played a patron at a restaurant and Todd Friel played the waiter. Kirk placed his drink order with Todd. Then as Todd was about to go get his drink, Kirk asked "do you know what T.I.P. stands for?" Todd replies "NO". Kirk says "To Insure Promptness". He then goes on to say that if it is to insure promptness then he might as well give the tip upfront. So he hands him a million dollar bill tract and tells him to read the question on the back. I thought this approach was very interesting. Craig and I have often commented on how we like the Million Dollar Bill tract but that there has to be a way to draw the persons attention to the message. This approach seems well suited for that. So Friday night Mande and I were at the Fish City Grill in Georgetown. Our waiter took our drink order and as he was going to get it I asked him "do you know what T.I.P. stands for?" The dialog went basically like it did in the role play. It couldn't have been scripted better. He brought our drinks. Then came back to the table and asked what TIP stood for again so that he could tell one of his co-workers. Later in the meal him came and told us that he had read the back. He told us he was a believer and we had a long discussion with him. He said he was going to mail the tract to his mom who needed to read the message! Praise God!

We had a long conversation with a palm reader (like this man) on 6th Street in Austin. He had some odd views of eternity to say the least. Pray for Kim!

On Saturday evening we went witnessing on 6th Street in Austin with friends Steve and Pat Fick to provide them some hands on training in witnessing.

We talked to Edgar at the parking garage and shared the Gospel with him. We also left him with a copy of To Hell and Back on CD! We had a long conversation with a palm reader who believes that everything is connected to the Universe. Steve and I also had some good witnessing with a few college students using the survey approach to strike up a conversation.

Many thanks to Redeeming Grace Lutheran Church, Austin, for hosting the first Bezeugen Ministries Evangelism Training Seminar. We had 12 attendees on Sunday afternoon. We will do the class again this Saturday at Chuck's restaurant at Park and Midway in Plano. If your church, Sunday School or Small Group would like to host this training please let me know.
