A Weekly Newsletter

Volume 2, Number 6

Thursday, February 7

Carl and Craig will be witnessing at Valley View Mall at lunch time. Please pray for receptive hearts to talk to. Please also pray for our continued follow-up with various people that we see there each week!

Valentines Day

We are planning a Valentines Day event to feed the homeless. Plan is to make sack lunches and feed the homeless on Monday, February 18. Pray for wisdom in planning for this event.

Basic Evangelism Training Seminar

Thank you for your prayers for our second Basic Evangelism Training Seminar that we held this past Saturday at Chuck's Restaurant in Plano. We also had a fun time witnessing that night to a number of people at the Shops at Legacy. We appreciate those that attended and provided feedback. We also appreciate the prayer support of those who could not attend. We are now planning to update the class with a few suggestions that we received. We are in the process of meeting with pastors, adult curriculum leaders and youth leaders to schedule venues for future events. It is our hope and prayer that we can hold this seminar at least once a month and that as a result more people will incorporate Evangelism into their daily lives!

Bibles for Believers

The Lord has laid it on our hearts to provide Bibles to new believers who need them. We order them by the case for $2.15 each. Please pray about a donation to Bezeugen to cover these costs.

Fun While Shopping!

"Go therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and the Son, and the Holy Spirit..." Matthew 28:19

If you are like me, going shopping is not at the top of your fun things to do list. However, I have learned how to make it fun! Mande asked me to run to the store to pick up a couple things she needed for some baking. So I drove to Tom Thumb. I parked my car and grabbed a stack of tracts. I took quite a few business card IQ Test tracts, some million dollar bills and 101 Funniest One Liners. I went inside and the first item on my list was down the first aisle so I grabbed it and headed over to the soda aisle. As I went down the soda aisle I put the IQ tests in that little slot on the top of the 12 and 24 packs of soda. It sure is nice of Coke and Pepsi to put those slots there for us to put tracts in!! I then headed for the beer aisle and put more IQ tests into the six packs, 12 packs, 30 packs, etc. You get the idea! Finally I headed over to pick up the final item that I needed. Along the way I came across a few more boxes of soda on an end cap and filled those with IQ test tracts as well. I got the last item and headed for the Witnessing to a Muslim? Don't debate the Bible. Take them to the Law. Show them their sin. Tell them that the Quran says that even possessing everything in the whole world would not forgive their sin (Surah 10:54). Then show them that Jesus check out lanes. In line the guy behind me looked bored so I handed him a 101 Funniest One Liner tract. He stood there and laughed. The cashier asked the guy in front of me if my items were his or mine. I said "well he can pay for them if he wants". Then I turned to the guy in front of me, handed him a Million Dollar Bill tract and told him I would "chip in to pay for them". He looked at the tract, then his friend took it from me. Finally, it was my turn to check out. The cashier was getting ready to go on break so I gave him a 101 Funniest One Liners tract to read! What a fun time!

So what do you talk to your hair stylist about while you are getting your hair cut? Probably like me, the normal how many kids do you have, what kind of work do you do, etc? So tonight after all of that standard stuff, I asked "do you go to church?" We had a good discussion about her temple, being a good person, what happens when you die, etc. Kim is vietnamese so we had a bit of a language barrier. But she told me her kids can read English. I pulled out a Pocket Testament and marked some pages and asked her to have her kids read those pages to her. She said she would!!

I hope these ideas help you to share your faith!
